TRIPLE CELEBRATION ON FOURTH

Historic Pageant to Be Given in Ballardvale Tomorrow Morning—Bonfires, Sports, Parades, and Concerts Promise Full Day

Two bonfires, three parades, sports on land and water, a pageant, a soccer game, three band concerts and dancing are the diversions planned to entertain the people of greater Andover on July Fourth. Something will be happening every minute from midnight to midnight and only fine weather is needed to make the celebration one of the best ever held in Andover.

The bonfire at midnight on the Playstead and a band concert in the Park in the evening are the only events which will take place in the center of the town. These are sponsored by the Square and Compass Club working through the following committee: I. R. Kimball, chairman; Fred Morrison, Charles Gilliard, George Dick, Edmond E. Hammond, John L. Morrison, E. Burke Thornton, Robert Crockett Jr., David L. Coutts, and Henry Todd.

Preceding the regular band concert on the park which is to be given by the Lawrence Cadet band of twenty-five pieces, commencing at eight o'clock, there will be a special program for the children, beginning at seven. The concert numbers will be chosen especially to please the youngsters and there will also be an entertainment furnished by a ventriloquist and sleight-of-hand artist.

Between seven and nine will be the hours for all patriotic citizens to renew their pledge of allegiance to their flag and country by signing cards which may be found at a booth on the Park. Members of Andover Post 8, American Legion, have this part of the day's program in charge. More than 700 citizens signed such cards last year and it is hoped that an even larger number will take the opportunity to show, by this simple act, their loyalty and patriotism evidenced by a willingness to serve in time of need.

Refreshments will be on sale both at the bonfire and at the concert and in the evening; a subscription will be taken up to help defray the expenses of the band.

The celebration at Shawsheen includes a patriotic parade and sports with prizes in the morning, with a soccer game in the afternoon and a concert in the evening. A full notice of these events will be found on the Shawsheen page.

A pageant in miniature, with a prologue and four parts, will be staged by Mrs. John M. Birdsall of Lawrence in connection with a Fourth of July celebration in Ballardvale Saturday, beginning at 10.30 a.m.

An ideal spot has been selected on River street which furnishes a fine background and setting for the pageant, in which one hundred children will take part.

Mrs. Birdsall is a member of the 47 Workshop formerly conducted by Professor Baker at Harvard, and has staged plays for the New England Woman's Club, Boston, Utopia and Woman's Club of Lawrence.

The pageant will picture the early settlement of Ballardvale and will show how the beginning is linked with the village of the present day. Mrs. Birdsall has made an extensive study of the early history of Ballardvale and the pageant will reveal a story of deep interest.

IMPROVEMENTS AT POMPS

Town Water Carried to Bathhouse Affords New Conveniences — Life Guards on Duty 12 Hours Daily

Many improvements made possible by a supply of running water are now underway at Pomps Pond swimming beach. Six hundred thirty feet of one and one-half inch pipe from the pipe supplying Camp Andover carry town water to the bath house.

Two small additions have been added at the rear of the building providing space for two toilets and a hand basin adjacent to each dressing room. A large cesspool at the rear takes care of the sewage.

Two bubbler fountains have been installed just outside either end of the bath house, supplying a crying need. Across the front is constructed a platform providing access from the shower baths to the entrance porches. Two dry wells take care of the surplus water from these conveniences.

Last year a flight of steps was built from the swimming beach to the upper level where the bath house is situated. The addition of a runway from a large rock in shallow water to the foot of the steps and a plank walk from the steps to the shower baths will help to keep the dressing rooms themselves in a much neater condition. Holes will also be bored in the floors so that the dressing rooms may be flushed with a hose when required.

The carpentry work is being done by John W. Richardson, and the plumbing by the W. H. Welch Company.

The beach has been lengthened about thirty feet since last season, which, together with the addition of sand, has greatly improved the beach itself. With this enlarged space it will be possible to make a different arrangement of the guard ropes with separate sections at the north and south for girls and boys, rather than having one enclosure at the center of the beach. A new springboard was placed in position this week and it is hoped to replace the boat which was destroyed by vandals.

The life guards are Frank McBride and Paul Dyer. Mr. McBride, who is the janitor of the Knights of Columbus home, has obtained a ten-weeks' leave of absence in order to devote his entire time to his duties at the swimming beach. Mr. Dyer was a member of the class graduated from the Punchard high school in June, where he was president of his class, captain of football and basketball, and a member of the baseball nine. He expects to enter Boston College in the fall. The men are on duty from nine o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock in the evening, and besides having supervision of the grounds and beach are helpful teachers of the inexperienced swimmers. The beach was opened this season on Monday, June 22.

An appropriation of $1500 was made to carry on the Pomps Pond swimming beach project at the annual town meeting held in March. This has been supplemented by a

Cut Out "Stunts" and "Risks"

If you wish to come through the Fourth of July celebration with every finger in place, with your flesh and bones whole, with bright eyes, and flushed with pride at your sane conception of patriotism, then don't indulge in any freak stunts or take risks that are "tabooed" by accident insurance companies, advises the A. L. A.

Some people pick out the Fourth of July on which to show all their pent-up carelessness, all their exuberance of selfishness, regardless of where they may be or go, and utterly reckless as to what they do. The day after is forgotten in the wild doings of the night before.

You can have just as good time and be respected 1000 per cent more by drivig your car at moderate speed, by refraining from making hideous noises, by letting "hooch" alone, by being courteous and considerate, and being able afterward to write in your diary, if you keep one,—"I didn't realize how shamefully I have acted in the past."

There are a thousand ways to get into trouble, but only one to keep out, and it is easier to hold fast to that one than it is to watch the thousand. Be careful of what you do.

Drive with both hands on the wheel. Watch traffic ahead of you. Be sure when you approach a corner in city or country that your speed is reduced, that your brakes are in order and that you have your car under control. Remember if you are going at twenty miles an hour you are covering approximately thirty feet in one second, and that one second is one tick of the clock. There is not much time to think or act. Do not race with another car. In doing so you will forget everything else, and in fast driving the thirty feet becomes sixty or eighty per second.

Danger lurks at curves in the road, take them slowly as far on your side as it is safe to drive. Give the speed demon who may meet you there plenty of space in which to destroy himself, if he so desires, but not you.

Approach steam railroad crossings with reverence. They are the shrine of fools. Stop before you cross unless you are absolutely sure that it is safe to go on. Do not make this your last spot on earth by carelessness, as so many have done. There is less reason for an accident at a railroad crossing than in any other place on the road.

Observe these few instructions faithfully and as far as your driving is concerned the Fourth of July will take on a new meaning for you.

Bills Well Washed

Remarking that bank clerks are accustomed to fingering dirty treasury notes, Sir Robert Kindersley, the president of the National Savings organization and a director of the Bank of England, said occasionally a customer goes to the opposite extreme.

A case in point was that of an elderly lady who paid into her bank a number of bundles of notes that, although not new, were of immaculate appearance.

To the cashier's complimentary allusion to their daintiness, the customer's reply was:

"And so they ought to look nice, being that I was up till 1 o'clock this morning cleaning and ironing them!"—Pittsburgh Post.

Candles as Auctioneers

The ancient custom of "selling by candle" is not dead in this country, although it is rare. At Warton the grazing rights upon the roadside are let annually by this means, and at Aldermaston the "church acre," a piece of meadow left to the church many years ago, is let every three years in similar fashion.

A candle is lighted; one inch below the flame is measured off and a pin stuck in at that point. The bidding begins and the one who bids as the pin falls is the winner. The bidding is very slow until the pin is approached, and then there is great excitement as to who will bid at the important moment.—London Tit-Bits.

World's Largest Tome

Vienna claims the biggest book in the world. It is in the Dominican cloister, carefully mounted in a case in one of the corridors. The book is made up of parchment leaves mounted on thin wooden borders. On the parchment is maintained a death list of the cloister. The first entry was made in 1410, but even this date is 184 years more recent than the date of the cloister, for this home of Dominican monks was founded in 1226, under the Babenbergers. Each leaf of the largest book in the world is four feet high and three feet wide. As biographical notes are entered, besides death notices, the book has much historical worth.

Martyr to Duty

"What makes you look so fatigued?" was asked of an undersized Arkansas Cltyan the other day. "Well, it's like this," he replied. "My wife is walking to reduce, and the only time she can do it without attracting the attention of the neighbors is in the evening. She then insists that I go along, even if I am tired. The past two weeks I have lost eight pounds and she has gained two ounces."—Arkansas City (Kan.) Traveler.

OUTINGS FOR THE WEEK

married women, Mrs. C. Norman Bartlett. A basket lunch was carried and ice cream and tonics were sold at the picnic grounds.

Insurance Employees Enjoy Annual Outing

The employees of the Merrimack Fire Insurance companies from this town and Cambridge held their annual outing at Marblehead on last Friday. Sports, dinner, and a trip around the harbor with the opportunity of taking pictures of the "Mayflower," the President's yacht, made the day most interesting.

The party, composed of more than fifty persons, left the square at 1.15 and proceeded by machines to Marblehead. Games and sports were then enjoyed in which the winners were as follows:

Paper bag race — Fred Jacob, first; Miss Beatrice Proulx, second.

Potato race for women — Miss Alice Nelligan, first; Miss Etta Brown, second.

Potato race for men — Alfred Butterfield, first; Herbert Veit, second.

Needle and peanut race — Miss Anna Brady, first; Miss Beatrice Proulx, second.

Jump rope dash — Alfred Butterfield, first; Malcolm Ruhl, second. For women, Miss Jean MacLeish.

Fat women's walk — Miss Louise Hardy, first; Miss Marion Abbott, second.

Mixed relay — Team A, composed of Jean MacLeish, Anna Brady, Malcolm Ruhl, Charles Cole.

Volstead race — F. H. Schwarz, first; Frederic G. Moore, second.

Following the sports, there was a motor boat ride about the harbor. Dinner was served at seven o'clock, with after dinner speeches by Burton S. Flag, Frederic G. Moore, William Burridge and John A. Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. George Minskey of Lansing, Michigan, the former an employee of the Michigan Millers Fire Insurance company, were the guests of honor for the day. Mrs. Minskey was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers and Mr. Minskey was the recipient of a box of cigars. The presentation was made by John A. Arnold, secretary of the Merrimack Fire Insurance company.

An entertainment of songs and dances by different members of the office force of the Merrimack and Cambridge insurance companies, and dancing ended a very pleasant day.

Employees of Andover Press Hold Outing at Grape Island

The annual outing of the employees of the Andover Press was held last Saturday at Grape Island. Leaving the Press at half past eight on a fine June morning the party of twenty-five was conveyed to Ipswich by private automobiles accompanied by a truck load of comestibles and beverages.

From Ipswich an hour's motorboat ride was enjoyed to the island where dinner was served shortly after landing. The variety of good things provided was further supplemented with a hot fish chowder.

An open level field and cool breeze encouraged games and sports. The baseball game between the "single" and "married" men resulted in a score of 18 to 4 in favor of the latter. The batteries were Harold Johnson and James Rich for the single men and George Collins, Ross Keogh and Duncan Bissett for the married men.

Prizes were awarded the winners in the sports as follows:

25-yard dash for women — Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, chain of beads.

Ball-throwing contest for women — Miss Grace A. Higgins, powder box.

100-yard dash for men — First, George Collins, eversharp pencil; second, Harold Johnson, knife.

Three-legged race for women — Ruth Saunders and Etta Cashan, powder box and pencil.

Three-legged race for men — Alfred Harris and James Quinn, fountain pen and ash-tray.

The three-legged race for women was so closely contested between the combinations of Saunders and Cashan, Goldsmith and Hodge, Higgins and Alley that the winner had to be determined by the two best races out of three. For the men, Harris and Quinn were easily the swiftest.

There was also time for sea bathing and dancing before the ample supper cooked and served at six o'clock by members of the office force.

Lunches on the boat and light refreshments served on arrival in Andover completed one of the pleasantest and most satisfying outings ever held by the Andover Press.

Theoretical Line

The 180th meridian in the Pacific ocean was selected as the international date line largely for the purpose of convenience. It is theoretically the opposite half of the circle of the meridian of Greenwich, which by common consent of the navigators of the world is the earth's prime or first meridian and is used as the common standard for reckoning time and measuring longitude.

The arriving guests were received by Mrs. Brown, Colver J. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. David Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Pratt. Acting as ushers were John V. Holt, William A. Trow, Howard H. P. Wright, Frank E. Whiting, Charles H. Shearer, and Frank T. Carlton. The matrons were Mrs. Charles A. Newhall, Mrs. George A. Parker, and Miss Mary E. H. Dern. The committee of arrangements for the occasion were Mrs. Susuan K. Jones, Miss Nellie B. Bliss, Myron E. Gutterson, and Charles H. Shearer.

Phillips Commencement

Rev. C. H. Oliphant of Methuen preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Phillips Academy. On Sunday evening the farewell meeting of the Society of Inquiry was held. On Monday evening occurred the entertainment under the auspices of the musical and dramatic organizations. On Tuesday afternoon the customary class day exercises were held. Wednesday morning was the commencement program at the seminary chapel, with the diamond jubilee of the Philomathean Society, followed at noon by reunions and at one o'clock by the alumni dinner in the academy hall.

The musical and dramatic entertainment was held in the Town Hall, and "although the number who attended was not as large as last year, it was one of fashion, youth and beauty." The farce presented was "A Husband in Clover,"

Fred L. Collins won the third Draper prize as well as the second Robinson prize for extemporaneous debate. Charles T. Ryder won the first Harvard English prize for English composition and rhetoric. Albert H. Moore received honorable mention for the Foster prize in oral Greek and Latin as well as honors in Latin composition.

Andover boys who were members of the graduating class were Fred L. Collins, Douglas Gordon Crawford, Albert Hanford Moore, John Husfeldt Soehrens, Philip Kendall Jenkins, Frederick Albert Baldwin.

The following officers of the alumni association were elected: President, Dr. Charles E. Thwing, 1871, of Cleveland, Ohio; vice presidents, Robert C. Winthrop, 1850, Boston, Timothy M. Griffing, 1860, Riverhead, N. Y., Henry W. Rankin, 1870, East Northfield, Frank D. Somers, 1871, Boston, Edward S. Beach, 1879, Boston, William E. Freer, 1880, Chicago, Ill., Walter F. Wilcox, 1880, Ithaca, N. Y., Frank P. Dodge, New York, N. Y.; secretary, George T. Eaton, 1873, Andover; treasurer, Frederick E. Newton, 1890, Andover; executive committee, George W. W. Dove, 1853, Andover, James Hardy Ropes, 1885, Cambridge, Fred W. Mooar, 1889, Boston, Perley F. Gilbert, 1890, Andover.

At the exercises following the alumni dinner, Dr. Bancroft touched upon the athletic interest of the school. He said that the body was coming to be regarded first, the mind second, and the soul third. He announced that $27,916 had been received for the gymnasium fund, making $51,000 in all. Although $50,000 had been asked for, $75,000 could be used advantageously. He told of the gift of $5000 for the purchase of a lot of land for a new campus, to be called Brothers Field, and also of the gift of $20,000 by Mr. Borden of Fall River.

Other after-dinner speakers were Samuel C. Darling, class of 1860, Rev. Henry Hamlin Stebbins, 1858, of Rochester, N. Y., Harlan H. Ballard, librarian of the Pittsfield Athenaeum, George D. Pettee, the retiring registrar (who was tendered a termendous ovation when he rose to speak), Rev. Edward O. Dyer, 1874, of Sharon, Conn., Rev. George H. Hewett, 1879, of Lowell, William E. Freer, 1880, of Chicago, Ill., Edward S. Beach, 1879, of Boston, the first editor of the Phillipian, and Rev. Charles A. Jones, 1881, of Pennsylvania.

Home of the Violin

Mittenwald, Bavaria, is the home of some of the most famous violins of the world. It is the Cremona of Germany. Walking down a street of Mittenwald, one begins to believe that violin making is the only thing that goes on there at all. As a matter of fact, it is this industry that keeps Mittenwald alive. Its violins are exported to all the countries of Europe and America. This industry was established in the early part of the Eighteenth century when Mittenwald was in a most impoverished state as a result of the Thirty Years' war. Since then it has prospered and flourished and the inhabitants of Mittenwald have good reason to be grateful to Matthias Klotz, founder of its violin industry.

Famous Early Physician

Hippocrates was a Greek physician nicknamed the "Father of Medicine." He was born on the island of Cos, 460 B. C., died in Thessaly, 357 B. C. He was the author of many valuable writings on the science of medicine, and was the first to put aside all traditions and superstitions and base the practice of medicine on the study of nature, without reference to religion or other matters. He was said to be a master of clinical research and the originator of a system of diet and regimen for the cure of illness. He was also a great believer in benefits from climates suited to the temperament of the patient.

Oil on Turbulent Waters

It is surprising to learn how very little oil is required to smooth the tossing ocean billows and insure the safety of a mighty vessel. The British admiralty issues instructions as to the application of oil in storms, and points out that a very small quantity is effective in modifying the action of waves and breaking seas. A vessel going at ten knots an hour during a storm can surround itself by comparatively still waters, covered with an oily film, extending a safe distance on all sides, by allowing oil to drip on the water at the rate of little more than a pint an hour. And the effect is greatest on waves in deep water.

Not All in America

The average Briton who knows anything about America never fails to think that some American town names like Oshkosh and Yuba Dam are the funniest things that ever happened.

However, they forget the queer town names in their own tight little island.

For instance, there is a Nasty in Herefordshire and a Mucking in Essex. Norfolk boasts of a Great Snoring.

In Lincolnshire one finds Swineshead Cowbit, and Dripping Gore in Kent. Yorkshire also has a match for Yuba Dam.

It has Dam Flask. Then there are other odd ones like Hellous Bumpstead, Toller Porcorum, Heck, Over Wallop and Nether Wallop, Barton-in-the-Beans and Lynesack-and-Softly.

Sympathy

An untimely frost effectually completed the mischief done earlier by the insect enemies of Mr. Perkins' potatoes. The tops of the plants, which had served as pasturage for the pests, were entirely destroyed, and with them Mr. Perkins' hopes of a crop. He was not selfish, however, and could think of others in the hour of adversity. In the afternoon he was accosted at the post office by a friend.

"Hello, Perkins! How's everything up to the corners?"

"Trouble enough, Williamson, trouble enough!" was the gloomy response. "Ten million potato bugs, and nothing for 'em to eat!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Other Fish to Fry

The owner of an estate on which there was a lake was annoyed to see a stranger fishing therein. He approached the trespasser and began to abuse him.

"This lake," he said, "is privately owned and I stocked it myself. You must go away at once."

"Just a minute, sir," said the fisherman calmly. "What did you stock the lake with?"

"Trout," was the answer. "And I won't have——"

"That's all right, sir," said the trespasser unconcernedly. "I'm fishing for pike."—Rohoboth Sunday Herald.

Exercise Needed for Teeth and Gums

Hard, crusty foods, which require chewing, are desirable in the child's diet because:

1. They give the jaws exercise which develops them normally.
2. They stimulate the gums and keep the teeth clean.
3. The amount of chewing required mixes the food well with the saliva and so helps in digestion.

An Opportunity to Pledge Renewed Allegiance

In a certain sense, we suppose, all intelligent men and women are pacifists; that is, they hate war and are ready to make any honorable concession in order to preserve peace. Having seen only too recently all the gruesome horrors of warfare under modern conditions, they are convinced that, as a means of settling disputes, it ought to be resorted to only when all other methods of settlement have failed. But most loyal citizens recognize, however unwillingly, that there may be situations in which it would be both contemptible and disastrous not to take up arms. We are sure, for instnace, that our decision to enter the World War was not only right and justifiable from the viewpoint of political morality but was also dictated by the imperious instinct of self-preservation. It is conceivable that a similar crisis may again arise in our history; and, if it does, we ought to be equipped to meet it.

It is for this reason particularly that National Defense Test Day, set by the President on July 4, is so significant. It does not this year involve any attempt in our locality to marshal the armed forces of the Commonwealth or of the nation. It does not demand from any one a contribution in money or time. Those in charge in this town merely request that all good Americans pledge themselves anew to fulfill their duty to the flag in case of emergency. In other words, an opportunity is presented for a simple but convincing form of patriotic demonstration in which every one can participate without inconvenience.

The day itself may well be taken as offering leisure for meditation, at least for a few minutes, on the general problem of our available defenses. This happens to be a period when certain organizations are spreading abroad the pernicious doctrine that the citizen owes no duty to the state in time of war, and that he is entitled to choose whether or not he will serve his country in her hour of peril. There are even those who, maintaining that war is wrong under any circumstances, feel justified in refusing to support any society, including the Red Cross, which has even a remote connection with the army and navy. It is doubtless true that, in a country where free speech is admitted to be a privilege of every citizen, such persons are entitled to their opinions; but it is equally true that the principles advocated by such radicals are a menace to our national integrity. The non-resistant, the slacker, the coward, are all weakening the power of the United States to resist attack or defend themselves against aggression. We are sure that those organizations which are opposing an adequate preparedness are dangerous to our welfare, and we feel that right-minded citizens will welcome a chance to voice their disapproval. We need not necessarily become militaristic or belligerent; we do not have to fall into the madness of Jingoism; but it is essential that we should not sink to the point where we may lose our self-respect. We trust that in 1925 National Defense Test Day, falling as it does on the anniversary of our national independence, will take on a new meaning. We hope that here in Andover citizens will visit the booth on the Park Saturday evening between the hours of seven and nine, and will pledge themselves to maintain their allegiance to our government.

Band Concerts for Andover

The Andover Chamber of Commerce, through a subcommittee, is arranging a series of four Band Concerts to be held in the park this summer.

The first concert occurs Friday evening, July 17, at eight o'clock, and is to be given by the well known Salem Cadet Band. This band is exceeded by none in New England, if not in the entire country, and the citizens of Andover and vicinity are to be congratulated upon the success of the Chamber of Commerce, in obtaining their services.

Approximately $600 must be raised to finance the course of four concerts.

Funds are to be obtained in the following manner:

(1) Subscriptions from our citizens.
(2) A sale of tags.
(3) Advertising upon tags.
(4) Sale of ice cream.

Last year, when the matter was first projected the response by the community was genuine and spontaneous, The committee has no doubt that this year the community will back as previously, this most commendable effort on the part of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is:

F. G. Cheney, Chairman; Henry A. Bodwell, Harry J. Hyland, W. C. Crowley, I. R. Kimball, Frank P. Markey, F. G. Moore.

Mr. Crowley is treasurer. All interested are requested to forward him their contributions.

Free Church C. E. Elects Officers

The Free Church Christian Endeavor society held its last meeting for the summer Sunday night, under the leadership of Ruth Perry. The subject was "Our Mission Field." At the meeting, Dr. Wilson, pastor emeritus, retired after thirty-six years of service, from the active list of the society's members. He was given a vote of thanks for the work he had done during those years, and his name put on the list of honorary members of the society.

The nominating committee made its report at this meeting and the following officers were elected: Bertha Cuthill, president; Albert Booth, vice president; Roger White, secretary; Thomas Thin, treasurer. Committee chairmen were elected also: Jean MacLeish, social committee; Helen Otis, missionary committee; Evelyn Mayer, prayer meeting committee; J. Henry Otis, music committee; Ruth Saunders, press committee; and William Barnett, lookout committee.

Fire on Brechin Terrace

The fire whistle recently installed at the engine house blew its first alarm Tuesday evening at 9.45 when Box 56 sounded an alarm for a fire in the cellar of the house of Joseph Connelly of Brechin terrace.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Little damage resulted.

Indian Ridge Soccer Team Banqueted

The Indian Ridge soccer team, grammar school champions of Lawrence and vicinity, were given an elaborate testimonial in the Fraternal hall Friday evening when more than one hundred boosters of the team gathered together to pay tribute to them. At the conclusion of the post prandial exercises each member of the championship team was presented with a sweater bearing the insignia "I.R." The youths who took part in the season's games were deserving of the honor paid them, both for the earnest enthusiasm which they displayed during the entire year and for the keen sportsmanship for which they were noted.

An abundant menu, served by Caterer Thomas E. Rhodes at 6.30, consisted of chicken patties, green peas, rolls, crabmeat salad, ice cream, cookies, cake and coffee.

Following the banquet an interesting program was rendered. S7veral of the committee members were called upon for remarks and each one spoke of the wonderful spirit that was evident in the team during the past year and expressed the hope that it would continue in the future.

The program: Selections, Indian Ridge orchestra; remarks, Charles Fettes, chairman; Scotch songs, Gordon McLauchlan; dance, Misses Margaret Buchan and May Valentine; remarks, Edward Anderson; remarks, Andrew Johnson; songs, Henry Fairweather; songs, Indian Ridge chorus. General dancing was enjoyed until a late hour with music by the Indian Ridge orchestra.

The success of the Indian Ridge soccer team was due largely to the untiring efforts of the committee in charge. They labored earnestly to form a capable team and their efforts were crowned when their charges captured the championship.

The committee: Charles Fettes, chairman; Edward Anderson, secretary; David Milne, treasurer; John Elder, John Auchterlonie, Thomas Neil and Bert Sharpe.

Married and Single Men Battle to Tie

In one of the most hectic contests played on the local playstead this season, two teams representing the married men and the single men of the Knights of Columbus battled to an 11-11 tie last Friday evening. The single men began in the early stages of the game to amass a big score, but they were halted by the effective hurling of Capt. Markey and Lefebre of the married men. The game was halted in the ninth inning when darkness set in, but the contest will undoubtedly be played out at a later date.

The lineups: Single men, John Nelligan, 2b.; James Dyer, c.; Neil Cussen, s.s.; Frank Markey, 3b.; John Cussen, p.; Augustine Sullivan, 1b.; Leo Driscoll, l.f.; Joseph Hickey, c.f.; James Darby, c.f.; John Dugan, l.f.; Joseph Fallon, r.f.

Mrs. Rogers Elected

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, to succeed her husband, the late John Jacob Rogers as representative for the Fifth Congressional district, received a large majority in Andover over ex-Governor Eugene Noble Foss, Democratic nominee, in the special election held Tuesday. She received 822 votes, while Foss totaled but 87. There were two blanks.

Little interest was taken in the election and despite the efforts of the Republican Town Committee, less than 25 per cent of the electorate exercised their privilege, and only 911 votes were cast in the four precincts.

The polls opened at noon and closed at 6.30 p.m. The vote was fairly heavy the first hour but fell off later, and the tellers were able to announce the vote in the four precincts fifteen minutes after the polls were closed. The percentage of men and women voting was about 3 to 2 in favor of the former.

Ex-Governor Foss received his best percentage in Precinct 2, Ballardvale, where he totalled 21 to Mrs. Rogers's 70. In Precinct 1 he received 54; in Precinct 3, Shawsheen Village, 8; and in Precinct 4, Andover Hill, he got but four.

The vote:

	Pre. 1	Pre. 2	Pre. 3	Pre. 4	Ttl.
Mrs. Rogers	383	70	240	120	822
Foss	54	21	8	4	87
Totals	439	91	248	133	911

Mrs. Rogers will be the first woman from New England to sit in Congress. Her margin over ex-Governor Foss was in excess of two and a half to one in the district as a whole. Her total vote was 23,614, as against Foss's 9124. There are thirty-two towns and cities in the district.

In the rural district Mrs. Rogers rolled up impressive majorities, notwithstanding the light vote. She readily carried the Democratic cities of Lowell and Woburn by more than 2 to 1, although it was in those places that Foss made his best showing. In Lowell, about half the regular voting strength turned out.

Foss did not carry a single town in the district. The closest approach he made to it was in Boxboro, which Mrs. Rogers gained by a single vote, the figures being Foss 19, and Rogers 20. Only 20 per cent of the voters cast their ballots in that town, however.

Fireworks Store on Essex Street Not to Be Closed

A representative of the State Department of Weights and Measures visited Andover this morning and closed the store at Essex street recently opened for the sale of fireworks.

The reason for closing is said to be the fact that while the permit for selling is issued in the name of Eliott Ezaian, the owner of the building, the stock in trade is actually the property of J. King, who is neither a resident or merchant of Andover.

The last word at noon was that Mr. King expected to reopen immediately upon giving a bond of $500.00 to the proper authorities and the payment of $25.00 for a license.

There have been an unusual number of applications made this year for permits to sell fireworks, and Chief Emerson of the Fire Department, while finding it necessary to refuse many persons who were not prepared to comply with the laws governing the sale of such merchandise has made every effort to have the permits granted which will accommodate the residents of Andover, both those who buy and those who sell.

Choose Your Vacation Reading at the Memorial Hall Library

During the month of June, the Memorial Hall Library issued for home use, 3671 books, an increase of 413 over June 1924. At Ballardvale, 537 were borrowed.

Requests for vacation books come in almost daily. People leaving town for a holiday are sure to encounter some rainy days or idle moments when a book is a friend in need. In these days of automobiles it is easy to tuck in a package of books for these emergencies. The privilege of having books charged for an indefinite period does not apply to any of the seven-day fiction, nor to any books which have been on the library shelves less than six months, but there are many interesting stories and works of more serious import which, on request, may be charged to come due on September 15. It is interesting to note that the proportion of fiction alreay charged in this manner is less than books of history, theology and travel. Books for the children of the family are included in this privilege offered by the library to its townspeople.

Washing isn't woman's work, and there's no need for any woman to do it, with our moderately priced Rough Dry Service ready to wash and dry everything, iron the flat work, and leave only the ironing of the lighter pieces to be done at home.

The swimming beach was opened under supervision in the summer of 1923, the expense being borne by private subscription. It proved such a success that the following year the town voted to support this much appreciated facility, and the dressing tents were replaced by a permanent bath house. An appropriation was again made this year, and the following committee was appointed by the selectmen: William C. Crowley, chairman; Roy Hardy, secretary; Philip P. Cole, treasurer; I. R. Kimball, James C. Souter, David L. Coutts, Jerome W. Cross, F. H. Foster, Samuel Resnik, and Frank Buttrick.

Wedding

FESSENDEN — CHEEVER

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cheever of Chestnut street Monday evening at 7:30 when their daughter, Lucy Mildred, was united in marriage to William F. Fessenden of Miami, Florida. The house was attractively decorated for the occasion by the bride's cousin, Frederick E. Cheever. Palms and cut flowers were tastefully arranged, forming a background for the bridal party.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white crepe de chine with a veil and she carried a bouquet of bride roses.

Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present and after the couple received the congratulations of their friends, refreshments were served by Caterer Thomas E. Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fessenden were the recipients of many gifts. The couple left for the White mountains where they will spend the summer, returning in the fall to Miami, which will be their future home.

BOOTH — BOUTWELL

A pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Boutwell of Shawsheen road Tuesday afternoon when their elder daughter, Jenny Trull, was united in marriage to William Gordon Booth, son of Mrs. Jean Booth of Bradford.

Rev. Newman Matthews of the West church performed the marriage ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Rachel Boutwell, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss Grace Fletcher of East Washington, N. H., and Miss Alice Proctor of Fitchburg. The wedding march was played by Miss Cassie Musgrove of Fairhaven. The best man was John Dick of Norwich, Conn., a cousin of the groom.

The bride wore a gown of embroidered white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil of embroidered silk was caught up with a wreath of orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore a gown of flowered apricot crepe and carried garden flowers. The bridesmaids were attired in nile green and pink and carried mixed bouquets of garden flowers.

After the ceremony a reception was held and the couple received the best wishes of the entire gathering. Caterer Page of Lowell served a dainty wedding luncheon.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Booth will reside in Bradford.

Death

July 2, 1925, suddenly, at North Bridgeton, Maine, Arthur Harrison Allen of 147 Main Street, Andover, aged 55 years.

Roundabout Meeting of Garden Club

A roundabout meeting of the Garden club was held last Friday afternoon with fourteen members present.

Starting at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Rand on Locke street, visits were made to the gardens of Mrs. George L. Selden, School street; Miss Fonnie Davis, Elm street; Miss Florence Parker, Summer street; J. H. Campion and Mrs. G. M. R. Holmes, Bartlet street; Mrs. Francis Bergstrom, Punchard avenue; and Mrs. Henry A. Bodwell, Morton street.

The visitors noted with interest the pleasure and beauty possible in a small garden planned and worked by one person as well as the fascinating possibilities of the larger garden perfectly planned by a landscape architect. Larkspurs were in their prime and many fine specimens were admired.

Refreshments were served in the garden by Mrs. Bodwell.

Local Man Chairman of Lions Club Committee for Boy Scouts

Work of organizing the Boy Scout Council for Lawrence and Vicinity is well under way and will soon be accomplished. A committee of the Lawrence Lions Club which recently raised $7,000 to establish an efficient council organization, with headquarters and staff are giving leadership to the necessary organization proceedings.

This council organization which will supervise and extend the Boy Scout movement in Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, and North Andover will be made up of leading citizens, representative of the civic, educational, religious, business, and social interests of these communities. Each of the institutions now conducting troops will be represented on the council. Representatives of other institutions which organize troops in the future will add to this number. There will also be members at large.

Each of the four municipal groups will have its own District Committee that will be represented on the central council organization with headquarters at Lawrence. A full time experienced Scout Executive working under the direction of the council will be in charge of the administration. His chief function will be to promote and supervise the Scout work in these communities. He will spend much time in recruiting and training men of character to give leadership to the troops of Boy Scouts now organized and to be organized.

As soon as the council is organized and officers have been elected, the Lions Club will turn over the Boy Scout fund to them for their use and direction. Frank H. Hardy is Chairman of the Lions Club committee which is initiating the new organization. In an interview Albert Emerton, President of the Lions Club, said that it is the purpose of the club to place the Boy Scout fund in charge of the Scout Council. Although the Lions Club will continue their interest in the local Scout Council and will be represented in its membership it is not the purpose of the Lions Club to direct the Scout movement but to place its direction in the hands of a fully representative group of interested citizens. This is also in line with the policies of the Boy Scout movement.

Since the campaign for funds many boys have asked to join and a number of institutions are interested in organizing troops for their boys.

Poor Advertisement

Good advertising should look not merely to the present but to the future. It must have been a short-sighted house painter that inserted the following announcement in his home newspaper: "To the Public: The reason why I have hitherto been able to do painting so much cheaper than anybody else is because I am a bachelor and do not need to make a profit for the maintenance of a wife and children. 'Tis now my duty to inform the public that this advantage will shortly be withdrawn, as I am about to be married. You will therefore do well to send in your orders at once for the old rate."—Youth's Companion.

Making Him Useful

The plumber worked and the helper stood looking on. He was learning the business. This was his first day.

"I say," he inquired, "do you charge for my time?"

"Certainly," came the reply.

"But I haven't done anything."

The plumber, to fill in the hour, had been looking long at the finished job with a lighted candle. Handing the two inches of it that were still unburned to the helper, he said, witheringly: "Here, if you must be so conscientious, blow that out!"

The Eskimos of Alaska are not allowed to sell female reindeer, but may sell excess steers. The Eskimo herds have increased so rapidly that there is not a sufficient market for their reindeer steers, so they sell them to white dealers, who send the meat to outside markets.

Pythian Service at M. E. Church

"Greater Love Hath No Man Than This, That a Man Lay Down His Life for His Friend," was the text of the sermon preached by Rev. Clifford W. Reynolds at the Sunday morning service at the Methodist church to twenty-seven members of the Knights of Pythias and twelve Pythian Sisters in whose honor the service was held.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms from George Millett the florist and a profusion of beautiful flowers.

Mr. Millett and Mr. and Mrs. J. Leverett White arranged the floral display.

Anthems by the choir were rendered and a quartet consisting of Miss Anita Wells, Miss Edith Moss, Robert Harvey and Fred Sanborn sang "Come Unto Me." Mrs. Amanda Stevens played for the singing.

Birthday Dinner at Moody Home

A pleasant birthday dinner was held Sunday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. George R. Moody in honor of Mrs. Moody's birthday. The room was prettily decorated for the occasion and she was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts. A feature of the occasion was the beautiful cake adorned with candles.

Among those present were her sister, Mrs. Prudence Brown, and her daughter and sons and grandchildren.

Local Girls Attend Conference

Miss Doris Shaw and Miss Norma Matthews have been attending a week-end missionary conference at Camp Yul Ching, Columbia Lake, Andover, Conn., for Order of Joyful Service girls between the ages of twelve and sixteen.

A party of twenty-five girls in charge of chaperons left Boston last Friday and will return Tuesday. The entire party includes sixty-three and the local girls are sent as delegates by the Order of Joyful Service of the Congregational church.

Several missionaries were in attendance, a guest of honor being Miss Constance Buell, who is associated with Miss Caroline Sewall, the Children's Missionary.

Pastor Got Scolding More or Less Merited

One of the oddest things about the "Further Reminiscences," by S. Baring Gould, is the fact that he tells an amusing story of his experience in getting the words to the song, "John Barleycorn," but omits all mention of the fact that he wrote "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The clergyman and writer spent much time in collecting the old songs of the countryside. He heard that an almost bedridden old sinner of the neighborhood was an authority on "John Barleycorn," as it was sung in the district. So Baring Gould called on him, fortunately, on a day when the old man's wife was away, and discovered the invalid had managed to get downstairs. He sang lustily and gratefully and the ribald words were carefully written down.

The next day the minister called to get his pencil and was met by an irate wife. "What do you mean," she asked, "coming here and getting my husband to sing his old trashy songs when he ought to be preparing to meet his Savior?" She said that she had put her husband to bed and had burned his trousers so he could not get up again and entertain visitors. The minister was scolded as he never had been before for encouraging a man to be wicked.

Find Priceless Relics Below Antwerp Street

Golden altar vessels dating from the Tenth century have been found in an underground passage in an Antwerp street recently, Pierre Van Paassen reports, in the Atlanta Constitution. The passage was like a long tunnel and experts claim that it was formerly used by a religous order whose house was situated on the outskirts of the city. The friars used the tunnel to visit the cathedral when they wished to avoid walking through the streets. The tunnel ends abruptly and the site of the cloister to which it led is even in doubt. Near the altar vessels of priceless value were the inevitable skeletons nearly always discovered in connection with such finds. There is no way to estimate when the vessels were hidden. Some advance the opinion that they were hidden from the English raiders, others say they excited the envy of Spanish soldiers. The most likely explanation is that they were brought to safety in the days of Iconoclast outrages, when mobs invaded the churches and slashed priceless paintings, smashed inimitably wrought gold and silver adornments and tore invaluable illuminated books and manuscripts into shreds.

Men and Chairs

"Men are like chairs," writes a woman in a foreign exchange; "they vary in shape and size, but all can be sat on. Some men are like mahogany chairs; they lose their polish after a little while. Some are like Chippendale chairs; they need delicate handling. Some are like plush upholstered chairs; one cannot stand them on a hot day. Others are like parliamentary seats, they have to be won. Some married men are like deck chairs; they are always being dragged about. Some are like rocking chairs; they put you to sleep. And finally, some men are like benches; it takes more than one woman to sit on them—a wife and a mother-in-law."

Garden of Eden

Josephus, the Jewish historian, locates the garden of Eden between the Ganges and the Nile; others in southern Babylonia; still others in Armenia, near the source of the Tigris and the Euphrates. Recent discoveries would indicate that Eden was the Sumerian name for the plain of Babylonia at the south end of which stood the city of Eridu, formerly on the Persian gulf; and near it a beautiful garden inhabited by the gods and containing the Tree of Life. This points to a district north of the Persian gulf, and agrees with the Biblical evidence.

Trainer of Boxers Gives Diet Hints

To Kid Howard of Chicago and his new system of training and conditioning, Sammy Mandell, the present lightweight boxing champion of the world, gives a great deal of the credit for his meteoric rise to stardom in the world of pugilism. When Mandell first started fighting, he was small, weak and undeveloped, but after turning himself over to Howard it was only a short time before he took the decision from Sid Terris of New York that resulted in him being recognized as the boss of the lightweights.

Sammy Mandell.

Howard's system is unique in that it works no hardship on the athlete who is in training. Unlike the systems that have been used for years, this prominent and successful trainer of men makes conditioning more of a pleasure than a distasteful necessity. Instead of demanding that his men eat only certain things he advises them to eat what they want and when they want it as long as it is cooked in a proper manner. Mr. Howard, in a recent interview on the subject of diet and condition, said, in part: "Years ago it was a task, and an unpleasant one, for a boxer or a wrestler to train for a bout because he was forced to literally starve himself unless he wanted to eat steaks and chops at all times. I remember that when I was training for a match, I was so truly tired of steaks that I choked every time that I ate one but it was steak or nothing. I advise my men to diet at all times but it is perfectly possible for them to diet and, at the same time, to enjoy their food. My only 'don't' is the one regarding the eating of such combinations as fresh milk and cheese, and fruit with cream. In fact, I advocate the use of evaporated milk entirely. Vegetables are fine and the more that the athlete eats the better he will be for it. Pastry, of certain kinds, such as homemade pies, cakes and cookies, if made correctly, and with pure butter, evaporated milk and pure lard, are very beneficial. Stews and boils are ideal. Taken as a whole, any food, with a few exceptions, is all right if properly cooked and eaten without gorging."

And one has but to look at Howard, who is the most religious user of his own system, to realize that it is a success.

Pleasant for Auntie

Little Margaret was spending a holiday with her aunt in Cornwall. Now, auntie was a spinster, and not in the first bloom of youth. In fact, an unkind person had once been heard to refer to her as "old," and we believe the other word used was "cat." Anyhow, she was not young.

Auntie was determined to give her little niece a good time, and she arranged several pleasure trips in order to give Margaret a chance of appreciating the beauties of the Cornish scenery.

"When I take you to St. Ives I will show you the school that I went to when I was a little girl," promised kind auntie one day when they were out for a walk.

"Oh, auntie, is it still here?" asked the child, innocently. "I expect it's in ruins now, isn't it?"—London Answers.

CAMP ANDOVER OPENS

8.00 Camp fire.
8.40 Goodnight song.
8.55 Warning whistle.
9.00 Last whistle, all lights out.

Those who are returning to the camp for a second season will find several additions and improvements. The nature building, which is a memorial to a former beloved counselor, has a new cement basement for the arrangement of specimens and a piazza 14x14 feet. The situation of this building at the top of a high ridge overlooking the woods and pond is especially beautiful. Near the house is a young hemlock planted by Miss Ordway, the former nature teacher who died last year.

The foundation is already built for the new administration building which will supplant the small building now in use. The main lodge, enlarged last year, the infirmary with space for four cots, the lantern house, two lavatories, five bungalows and twelve tents used as dormitories and in which all the wooden cots have been replaced by metal ones, complete the plant.

The boys were greeted on their arrival by Fletcher D. Parker, superintendent of the Boston Missionary Society, which sponsors the camp..

Among the counselors are several who have spent the summer at Camp Andover before. K. A. Campbell, Jr., of Hopedale, a student at the Yale Law School, who is the new head counselor, spent some time at the camp last year.

Other counselors to return are Philip Jones of Hartford, Conn., Brown 1925; Carleton Weidenhammer, Bridgeport, Conn., who expects to enter Wesleyan next year; Brenton Wixon of Brighton, who was a former camper and junior counselor; Lloyd Starks of Boston, who is the treasurer; Donald MacLean of Roxbury, who is the superintendent of grounds; and Rev. E. E. Aiken, pastor of the Second Congregational Church of Dorchester.

New counselors include Miss Mary Armentrout of Oxford, Alabama, teacher of nature work, who recently took her M.A. degree at Columbia and has been teaching biology at Grenada College, Grenada, Mississippi; Everett Baker, Dartmouth '24, who is assistant to Rev. Sidney Lovett of the Mt. Vernon Congregational Church, Boston; Richard Hayes of Montclair, N. J., Princeton '25, where he was a member of the swumming team; and Claude Shotts, Yale Divinity School '25. Mr. Shotts, who will have charge of the camp athletics, is also a graduate of the University of Alabama, where he was a star football player and boxer. He expects to enter "Y" work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the fall.

The commissary department will be in charge of Miss Bessie Santesson, a missionary of the Boston City Missionary Society. Other counselors will be Miss Bernice Richmond of Brockton, a graduate of the Hartford Theological Seminary, and Miss Marie Parmenter of Northboro. Miss Elsie Stenburg of Allston Heights will also assist.

During the third and fourth weeks in July the camp will be occupied by younger boys between the ages of eleven and thirteen, and in August by younger and older girls. The three last groups will number eighty-five, filling the camp to capacity.

Drucilla Livia

Drucilla Livia was the daughter of Germanicus and Agrippina, notorious for her licentiousness. She openly married her brother Caligula, who was so tenderly attached to her that in a dangerous illness he made a will making her heiress of all his possessions and commanded that she should succeed him in the Roman empire. She died in the year 38, in the twenty-third year of her life, and was deified by her brother, Caligula, who built temples in her honor. She was very beautiful.—Chicago Journal.

Early Monetary Panics

The first small panic of the United States occurred in 1791 following the boom in business after the close of the Revolutionary war, and due to overspeculation in the securities of the new government and in the stock of the newly organized banks. The first great commercial crisis was precipitated by the War of 1812, followed by the capture of the city of Washington by the British on August 24, 1814.

NAVY FIGURES SUN'S VAGARIES

Eclipses for Years to Come Scheduled by Scientists.

Washington.—Prolonged study of the vagaries of the sun and the moon has enabled scientists of the United States naval observatory here to work out their eclipses for the next three years. Under the direction of Capt. W. S. Eichelberger, U. S. N., they now are starting on the 1929 eclipses.

An annual eclipse of the sun—an eclipse where the rim of the sun shows outside of the eclipsed area—is forecast for July 20-21, this year, but will be invisible in the United States. A partial eclipse of the moon is due August 4, being more or less visible in the eastern states and wholly visible on the Pacific coast.

There will be no eclipse of the moon next year, but there will be a total eclipse of the sun January 14, 1926. It will be visible only from Africa to the Indian ocean, and the naval observatory will send a party from here to Sumatra to observe it.

An annular eclipse of the sun will be visible July 9-10, 1926, in the central Pacific ocean, and as a partial in northern Australia, the eastern edge of Asia, the United States and Mexico.

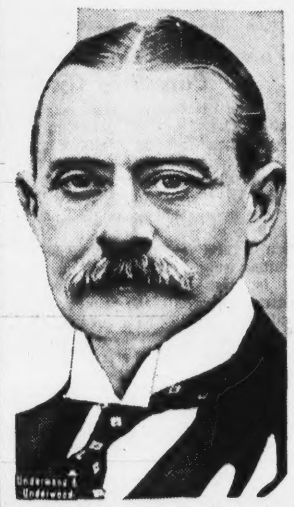

In 1927 there will be five eclipses—three of the sun and two of the moon. Seven eclipses in a year is the maximum, five of the sun and two of the moon, and the least number in a twelve-month is two, both of the sun, as will be the case in 1926.

An annular solar eclipse, visible in the southern Pacific, will occur January 3, 1927. A total of the sun, June 29, will be visible in Europe, appearing as a near total at Nome, Alaska. Another total of the moon in 1927 will take place December 8, visible generally in the Pacific ocean and in the northern part of North America. A partial eclipse of the sun will occur December 24.

Another heavenly phenomenon will be seen in 1927 in the transit of Mercury, which will appear as a dot on the sun. On November 10 the transit will take place, visible generally in the Pacific ocean, Australia and Asia, except in the northern and western portions. It will be visible at Honolulu, Manila and Samoa.

In 1928 three of the sun and two of the moon will be the order of eclipses. Captain Eichelberger considers the total solar eclipse of May 19, 1928, will be a curious one, only part of the resulting shadow falling on the earth, appearing as a piece on the south of Africa and the southern part of South America. A total of the moon, June 3, will be visible in the western parts of North and South America, the Pacific ocean, Australia and the eastern border of Asia. Partial solar eclipses will occur June 17 and November 12, a total of the moon transpiring November 27, visible in the western hemisphere.

EXPERT EMBROIDERER

When Princess Mary of England announced that there would be a gold thimble prize offered for the best example of masculine needlework as part of the soldiers' handicraft exhibition which was held at Norfolk, many of the peers of England made application to exhibit. Among the competitors was Lord Gainford, one of Britain's "coal kings" who whiles away his time during long journeys embroidering on canvas. Since the war he has amused himself with a type of embroidery of his own invention.

Swedish Nationality Total Is 9,000,000

Stockholm.—Sweden's population as shown by a report of the royal bureau of statistics is 6,000,000, and the entire Swedish nationality, wherever domiciled, is 9,000,000.

Figures show that 780,000 native born Swedes live outside the country, of whom 625,000 are in the United States, 30,000 in Canada, 50,000 in Norway and 36,000 in Denmark. The Swedish race in Finland numbers about 350,000, while the total Swedish stock in the United States, including immigrants and their children was 1,457,382 in 1920.

The foreign born inhabitants of Sweden number 57,832, or less than 1 per cent of the total population.

PRISONERS LEARN BY MAIL COURSE

Larger Percentage Finish Than in Civil Life.

New York.—A larger proportion of inmates of penal institutions complete correspondence courses than in civil life, according to officials of the National Society of Penal Information. William B. Carver, secretary in charge of the educational work among prisoners, recently explained the society's aims as follows:

"We desire to assist prisoners to get on their feet after they complete their terms. Through the agency of the Welfare League association we supply correspondence courses to prisoners in New York state, in order to increase their earning power and develop in them the habit of initiative and continuous effort inseparable from intelligent studies," said Mr. Carver. "Our statistics show that from 80 to 90 per cent of the prisoners taking the courses complete their work, an average far in excess of those people who take correspondence courses in civil life.

"Prison work should be looked upon as an educational matter, aside from the idea of punishment or retribution. Prisoners hate the word 'reform,' so we call it 'social re-education.' We try to develop social tendencies, to encourage unselfish service and manly self-development.

"The fundamental factors we have struck in our employment work are that the prisoners' previous training does not tend to form habits of continuous effort, and that many are poorly prepared to take their part in the life of the community.

Prison Schools Inadequate.

"The prison schools are inadequate. They teach men to read and write and give a little arithmetic. Prisoners are not obliged to attend, but many go to avoid the work in the shops. The prison classes are often run by inmate teachers, who give little enthusiasm, and supply no vocational training.

"Our society furnishes courses to a limited number of men. At present we have 47 still taking courses out of 87 who applied, and in most cases completed their work. Most of these men are in New York institutions—Clinton prison at Dannemora, Auburn, Sing Sing, and Great Meadow at Comstock—but we have one federal prisoner at Fort Leavenworth who is taking a course in advanced English.

"Most of the men prefer the courses issued by the Massachusetts state division of university extension, under the department of education, whose courses are chiefly practical, including such crafts as steamfitting, salesmanship and traffic management. However, ten or twelve of our men are taking courses given by Columbia university. One man is studying journalism; two are studying advanced English; one, a former engineer, is studying technical German. One of our students is taking a course in higher salesmanship from La Salle university, Chicago.

We receive most enthusiastic letters from our students. One student of steamfitting worked his way up from the coal hole to the boiler room at Dannemora. Before he entered he was a common laborer. Another boy, twenty-seven years old, with seven years already spent in various institutions and a term till 1938, is studying the modern gasoline engine. One of our graduates took a course in salesmanship, and just wrote the society that he had secured a job. Another man, confined for ten years, writes that he has memorized every page of his lessons on traffic management."

Limited by Money.

The funds for this work are supplied by the Welfare League association, 25 West Forty-third street, and it was stated that the number of applicants for correspondence courses was limited by the amount of money at their disposal. Every prisoner's application must be indorsed by the head teacher at his prison, and is then forwarded to the Welfare League association for action. According to their funds, they order the course from either Columbia or Massachusetts, and the rest is in the hands of James A. Moyer, director of the Massachusetts extension courses, and of Dr. James C. Egbert of Columbia.

It is hoped to extend this work from New York into neighboring states.

Through the work thus arranged the prisoners are becoming part of the educational system; education is overcoming the ignorance which leads to crime. In its work among released prisoners the Welfare league has helped 1,916 men, getting jobs for 504 of them. These men came from 23 states; some wanted advice, some medical assistance, but most of them merely wanted to report progress and obtain encouragement.

The executive committee of the organization includes: Thomas Mott Osborn, former warden of Sing Sing, who sponsored the Mutual Welfare leagues of prisoners at Sing Sing and Auburn prisons, president; Frank Marshall Knight, chairman; Paul W. Garrett, secretary and treasurer; John Jay Schieffelin, George W. Kirchwey, Spencer Miller, Jr., John J. Molloy, employment secretary, and William B. Carver, educational secretary.

FEEDING BABY DURING SUMMER

Milk is recognized as the ideal food for young children. It should be carefully guarded during the warm summer months, to insure its freedom from germs or bacteria that might cause harm to the child. Because of its nature, it is, under certain conditions, a breeding and propagating ground for germ life and may soon become unfit for use unless it is handled with the utmost care and vigilance. Perhaps the ideal way to obviate this risk is through the use of evaporated milk. This milk is only pure milk with sixty per cent of the water removed from it and is absolutely sterile. It is of double richness but may be modified by the addition of water, which will return it to its original volume with a greatly enhanced food value.

Evaporated milk is sterilized and has a high nutritive content. This causes it to be a very excellent food for the young child and the infant. In fact, many of the leading pediatricians of the country advocate its use after the child is deprived of its mother's milk. A formula, evolved by these pediatricians, through experimentation, is as follows:

From Sixth Week to Third Month.

Milk, evaporated	6 ounces
Lime water	3 ounces
Milk sugar	2 ounces
Boiled water	26 ounces

Seven feedings in twenty-four hours, 4 to 5 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and four-hour intervals at night.

From Third Month to Fifth Month.

Milk, evaporated	7½ ounces
Lime water	3 ounces
Milk sugar	2 ounces
Boiled water	29½ ounces

Six feedings in twenty-four hours, 5 to 6 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and one feeding at 10 p. m.

From Fifth to Seventh Month.

Milk evaporated	10 ounces
Lime water	3 ounces
Milk sugar	2 ounces
Boiled water	29 ounces

Five feedings in twenty-four hours, 6 to 7 ounces at four-hour intervals, the last feeding to be given at 10 p. m

From Seventh to Ninth Month.

Milk, evaporated	11 ounces
Lime water	3 ounces
Milk sugar	2 ounces
Boiled water	35 ounces

7 to 9 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day. Last feeding at ten at night.

From Ninth to Twelfth Month.

Milk, evaporated	12 ounces
Lime water	3 ounces
Milk sugar	2 ounces
Barley water	34 ounces

8 to 9 ounces at four-hour intervals during day. Last feeding at ten at night.

ESSEX COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL NOTES

White Pine Blister Rust Control

Intensive educational work for the protection of White Pine in Essex County began May 1, 1922. Since that date twenty-one towns have been offered service. Owners to the number of 1,136 have cooperated and their pines protected; 62,392 acres have been examined; 259,339 wild currant and gooseberry bushes (Ribes) have been found and destroyed; and 8,430 cultivated currant and gooseberry bushes (Ribes) have been disposed of.

The remaining towns will be visited this year and all cooperative Blister Rust control work will be finished October 1, 1925. After that date no further financial, Federal or State, assistance will be available for Essex County.

All owners of pine lands who have not received assistance and wish to avail themselves of same should apply at once, giving total acreage of holdings, number in pine, mixed pine and hardwoods or sprout land coming into pine, and mail to William T. Roop, Federal Agent in Charge, Essex County Agricultural School, Hathorne, Mass.

School Maintains Nursery of Flowering Shrubs and Perennials

The school maintains a small working nursery. It is the effort of the division to keep specimen plants of many of the shrubs, as well as a wide variety of roses, both for purposes of identification as well as to furnish decorative and propagating material. This collection is gradually being widened by the addition of peonies, phlox, and other flowering herbaceous plants.

One of the outstanding features of the year has been the collection of flowering bulbs, tulips, narcissus, hyacinths, and crocuses.

It is the effort of the management to keep all varieties carefully marked so that the collection may be of value to visitors at all times.

The nursery is located near the west entrance to the grounds and is very accessible by machine.

Agricultural Instructors to Hold Conference

The agricultural instructors of Massachusetts will meet at the School for the fourth time in nine years, this summer. The program will consist of speaking, round table discussion, study of the work of the school, visits to projects, and points in the county of extreme agricultural interest, together with outside trips. This conference is arranged by the Massachusetts State Department of Education and the dates are August 4 to 7 inclusive.

Junior Field Day to Be Held in August

Following the usual custom, Saturday, August 8, has been set aside for this event. It is proposed to make this a most valuable outing for boys and girls who are interested in club work, and their friends. It is hoped to introduce some special features this year.

Summer Work for Students and Teachers

Members of the staff are continually asked if their work for the season is over. Such a thing never happens to a live teacher on the Agricultural School staff, for while the individual may get a few days' rest, the work goes steadily and continually on.

Some of the very best teaching is done throughout the summer at the homes, on the farms and projects of students. Not only is an effort made to make the teaching most valuable from an agricultural standpoint, but also some of the best work in science and bookkeeping and other studies is emphasized

A student in any department of the Agricultural School is really in session or under instruction, guidance, and supervision all through the year.

A Little Out of the Way But It Pays to Walk

Work of Many Years to Count a Billion

It is practically impossible for even the trained mathematical mind to conceive a billion objects of any kind, says the Family Herald. In dealing with the subject of "one billion," Sir Henry Bessemer, inventor of the Bessemer steel process, on one occasion said:

"Let us try in imagination to arrange this number for inspection: Put a 25-cent piece on the ground and pile upon it as many as will reach twenty feet in height. Then let us place numbers of similar columns in close contact forming a straight line, and making a sort of wall twenty feet high, showing only the thin edges of the coins. Imagine two such walls running parallel to each other and forming, as it were, a long street. If we keep on extending these walls for hundreds of miles we shall still be far short of the required number. It is not till we have extended our imaginary street 2,386½ miles that we shall have presented for inspection our huge number of coins."

Lower Creatures' Odd Forms of Locomotion

In an address before the Wagner Free Institute of Science at Philadelphia Prof. Samuel Schumucker declared that the euglena is the simplest known form of animal life. In the lower forms of life, which are found in quiet waters, it is impossible to distinguish between animals and plants. Locomotion among the lower animals must be without legs or wings, says Professor Schumucker. These come only when life has developed into higher forms. "The simplest animals," he says, "are little drops of jelly, with a whiplash whose lashes drive them through the water by jerks. When they get thousands of little lashes instead, the motion becomes steady. This plan is kept for the inside movements in higher animals, and we clear air from the little rooms of our lungs by such motions." Respecting the locomotion of worms Professor Schumucker said: "Worms have come to have muscles whose contraction moves them, while bristles keep them from slipping backward."—Pathfinder.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Shawsheen and Andover Divided Points in First Match of Competition. Doubles Match Thriller

The opening matches in the Inter-Club tennis league were played Tuesday night when the new team in the league, Andover, and Shawsheen, played and divided the points, two each. The matches were postponed from Monday night and were played on the Balmoral courts.

Three singles and one doubles match were played with the local team winning two of the three singles and losing the doubles. All the singles required three sets to determine the winners, but Sawyer and Beattie came through in straight sets to capture the doubles from Higgins and Hall. After taking a marathon first set 12 to 10 they captured the second 6 to 4.

SINGLES

DeCamp, Shawsheen, defeated Sawyer, Andover, 9-7, 3-6, 6-4.

Shawsheen was shut out by North Andover in the second series of matches in the Greater Lawrence tennis tournament, Thursday night, the visitors taking all fine matches. Monday night the Shawsheen team will meet the Lawrence Canoe Club team on the Balmoral courts.

No Real Meaning to "Voices" of Insects

The "voices" of insects always have been of peculiar interest to mankind. Many naturalists and entomologists have sought to interpret these sounds, and some have claimed to be able to distinguish between the battle cry of a cricket, say, and its love song, according to the New York World.

Now comes Dr. Frank Lutz, curator of insects in the American Museum of Natural History, New York city, to assert his belief that the sounds of insects mean nothing—even to the insects themselves.

Insects squeak, buzz or hum because their body conformation is such that they cannot help making a noise when they move, he thinks. The sounds they make, he says, probably are often embarrassing to them, just as the rattling of the armor of knights of old often betrayed their presence to their enemies.

Ruse Worked Well

Ingenuity always pays, honestly or otherwise. The scene was a country hotel, full of guests, of whom it might be said at a glance that a good time was being had by all. Entered two tourists:

First Tourist (in an undertone to companion): "I say, if we are going to pass the night here we shan't get a wink of sleep. The row those fellows are making can be heard in every room in the house."

Second Tourist: "Stop a bit, I have an idea!" In a loud voice, to landlord: "We're going off to bed. Please call us at daybreak. Somewhere outside the village we lost a twenty-dollar bill and we want to look for it the first thing in the morning."

Presently, the travelers were left in undisturbed possession.

Water Looked On as Cureall by Gypsies

Konrad Bercovici, the magazine writer, who was born a gypsy, in writing in Hygeia of the habits of gypsy tribes, comments as follows on their use of water as a preventive of disease.

"The gypsy believes in the curative qualities of water. When a child is born it is immediately immersed in running water. When some one is ill he is given water—cold water, hot water, water all the time; water against headaches, as a cure for rheumatism and all old age complaints. When a man is over sixty they say: 'He is drinking old age water.'

"They use water to cure ills of horses and cattle and sheep. Even their incantations for happiness, their love potions and hate potions are all water. Naturally a deal of hokum goes with it. Water is their religion, their witchcraft. Many a gypsy has told me the reason gypsies move from one place to another is because they are going to better and better waters—to swiftly running waters.

"The gypsies use no drugs of any kind; not even herbs, dried or boiled. Next to water, their other remedy is fat—lard, grease and butter. They apply that to wounds after washing them. Water, grease and sunshine begins the gypsies' prayer to Tchiuma, the mother of the world."

Two Theories as to Origin of "Gazette"

There are two theories as to the origin of "gazette." It seems that the first newspaper so called was published at Venice in the Sixteenth century. According to one theory, the paper was issued at Venice by the government and came out in manuscript once a month during the war of 1563 between the Venetians and the Turks. The paper was read publicly in certain places and the fee charged for hearing it read was one "gazetta," which was a small Venetian coin worth a fraction of a cent. Hence the paper came to be called the "gazetta" and finally the "gazette." If this derivation is correct it is parallel to that of "jitney" as applied to a bus which carries passengers for a "jitney," or a nickel. According to the other theory, "gazette" as applied to the Venetian paper is derived from "gazza," a magpie. Hence it might have been a fitting name for a newspaper.—Pathfinder.

FOURTH PLANS COMPLETED

Patriotic Parade Starts from Postoffice at 8:30. Money Prizes for Winners Soccer Game Attraction

Plans are completed for the Fourth of July celebration which will be carried out in the village by the Community Service committee of the Shawsheen Village Women's club. The committee has worked hard to give the residents a real celebration and they only ask fair weather and the cooperation of all.

The patriotic parade which starts from the Postoffice on Poor street will start things going. Cash prizes will be awarded as follows: For the best costume worn by a child under 5 years, $1.00; for the best costume by a child from 5 to 10 years, $2.00; from 10 to 20 years, $3; and over 20 years, $5. For the best decorated truck, a prize of $5 will be awarded and for the best decorated pleasure car $5. The judges will be Mrs. Frederick Morrison, Gayton Abbott and Otis D. Allen. Paraders are asked to report at 8.30 and they will be supplied with fancy hats and flags which are now on exhibition in the Spa window. The route of the parade will be Poor street, to William, to Main, to Haverhill, to Sterling, to Dumbarton, to Carlisle, to Haverhill to Argyle to Burnham road, to York to Balmoral and finish on Balmoral street where the prizes will be awarded. There will also be free tickets for ice cream cones for the children.

In the afternoon at 2:30 there will be a soccer game between two teams picked from the Shawsheen, Indian Ridge and Methuen Central grammar school teams. These teams were the leaders in the schoolboy league this year and include the best of the schoolboy stars.

The celebration will close with a band concert on Balmoral Field at 8 o'clock.

The Arlington Mills band of Lawrence has been engaged and will render a program of popular pieces. Admission is free to everything all day and it is hoped that the residents will cooperate with the committee in making it a gala celebration.

Driver of Truck Injured

Jeremiah Pomerleau of Lawrence was injured Wednesday night about 8.30 when the large Mack truck owned by John F. McDonough which he was driving, upset while descending the incline near the home of Elmer Conkey of Hidden road, Frank Ward of Upland road was riding with Pomerleau at the time and he received cuts about the head, legs and arms. Both were taken to their homes after treatment by a physician. The truck is used in hauling crushed stone from Ballardvale to the road which is under construction on Abbot street.

Police Court Notes

Aubrey Polgreen of Washington avenue, who was arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor Sunday night, was arraigned in police court before Judge Colver J. Stone, Monday afternoon and was found not guilty.

Wilhelm Eppler of Roxbury was fined $25, by Judge Colver J. Stone in local police court Tuesday morning on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Sunday night.

Happiness Set Down as "Flame of Life"

I always think of happiness as a flame. I always have, all my life. It's just a fancy of mine, but it's as clear as anything. Fire—a lighted fire throwing a gleam across the gayest day, an inextinguishable fire. Because, however it dies down, you can find embers at the heart of its ashes and build it up again with what you have, Florence Ward writes in "The Flames of Happiness."

Almost without knowing it, almost in spite of yourself, you do just that. You take what you have: Love, of course, if you are one of the lucky ones who have it, or friendship—anything that means happiness to you. Sometimes the fuel that comes to your hand is the joy you have in your own mind, in learning and thinking, in books and plays and music, clear flames.

Sometimes it's religion. Most people, after they're older, keep it burning with work, hard, clean work and the little things that make it crackle—jokes and nonsense and bits of singing and laughter. Now and then, of course, you pile it with driftwood of your ambitions, and your dreams shoot up and up. It's a fire that costs you something, happiness; but you keep it going as you keep life going—I suppose instinct to preserve what's yours.

Antiquity of Alphabet

The Phoenician alphabet, ancestor of all the alphabets of modern western civilization, has had over seven centuries added to its known period of existence as a result of recent discoveries in Asia Minor, Prof. James A. Montgomery of the University of Pennsylvania told at a gathering of members of the American Philosophical society recently. Inscriptions made by the Hittites and Cretans, and also others found in Sinai, which date back to the Fifteenth century B. C., cause this revision of ideas on antiquity of our letters. Previously the earliest known inscriptions in these characters was the so-called "Moabite stone" discovered in 1868, and generally believed to have been written about 850 B. C.—Science Service.

Metallic Device Saves Clothes from Ravages of Moths

One of the most popular Sentry products at the present time is the Sentry Anti Moth Container. It is a metal case containing a special preparation which is a positive protection for winter clothing, sweaters, furs and draperies against the ravages of the moth.

The preparation inside the metal box is known as the Anti Moth Disc.

It is a highly concentrated gas in crystalline disc form that slowly evaporates into the air, forming a gas heavier than the normal atmosphere.

This gas sinks to the floor of the closet or room in which the container is hung, then works upward in its fumigating process until every fold, garment or crevice is penetrated and very moth grub is killed.

Laboratory tests show that moth larvae or grubs are killed within twenty-four hours.

The fumes are not injurious to textile fabrics, human beings, or household pets and the discs are not inflammable. The discs are not inflammable.

Sentry Anti Moth Disc has been tested in the Priscilla Proving Plant and proved satisfactory in practical home use and under scientific examination. The Sentry Products are advertised in The Saturday Evening Post and countless other mediums.

Alfred D. De Forge, local distributor for the Sentry Products Co., of Boston, has met with great success in the marketing of Sentry Products in Greater Lawrence.

The Sentry Anti-Moth containers may be purchased at the store of O. P. Chase. See ad Page 4.

Reinhart, the Painter

Joachim Christian Reinhart, German etcher and painter, was born at Hof, in Bavaria in 1761 and studied under Oeser at Leipsic and under Klingel at Dresden, in Saxony. In 1789 he went to Rome, where he became a follower of the classicist Germain painters, Carstens and Koch. He devoted himself more particularly to landscape painting and to engraving. Examples of his landscapes are to be found at most German galleries, notably at Frankfort, Munich, Leipsic and Gotha.

Wedding

REARDON — PAYTON

A wedding of local interest was solemnized Wednesday morning at a nuptial mass in St. Mary's church, Lawrence, when Miss Margaret G. Payton, sister of James J. Payton of Carisbrooke street, became the bride of Dr. Timothy H. Reardon of Lowell.

The bride's attendant was Miss Helen Driscoll of North Andover, an intimate friend; William Reardon of Lowell, a brother of the groom, was best man.

The bridal gown was of ivory satin and Spanish lace appliqued with ivory satin flowers. The bride wore a veil of tulle in princess fashion, arranged with a coronet of real lace and orange blossoms. White orchids, sweet peas and bride roses formed the bridal bouquet.

Her bridesmaid's gown was of coral crepe, with an overdress of real lace and touches of blue velvet ribbon. She wore a picture hat of blue horsehair, ornamented with a single flower in harmony with her gown, and carried a Colonial bouquet of Columbia roses and blue larkspur.

The guests at the church included relatives and friends from Woburn, Norwood, Worcester, Haverhill, Lowell, Lawrence and surrounding towns.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Payton, 9 Carisbrooke street. Only the members of both families and intimate friends were present. Dr. and Mrs. Reardon received the guests under an archway of cut flowers, roses predominating. They were assisted in receiving by Miss Helen Driscoll and William Reardon. The residence was decorated with a profusion of palms, cut flowers and potted plants. Caterer Weigel served the wedding breakfast.

Dr. Reardon has taken his bride on an extended wedding trip by motor and they will visit New York City, Lake George, Quebec and other points of interest in Canada. They will be at home to friends at 54 Florence avenue, Lowell, after August 1.

Another Trophy for Indians

Another trophy in recognition of the superiority of the Shawsheen Indians, National Soccer Champions, has been received this week by George M. Wallace, owner of the Shawsheen F. C.

The beautiful silver cup is emblematical of the Eastern division championship of the National Challenge Cup competition of the United States Football Association. In winning the Eastern division cup Shawsheen defeated Abbot Worsteds 2 to 1, and in winning the National Challenge Cup, Chicago was beaten 3 to 0.

The Eastern division cup has been in competition for four years and former winners have been Todd Shipyard, Brooklyn; Paterson F.C. and Fall River. Shawsheen holds possession of the cup until defeated.
